After graduating from Macalester College in 2018, Rebecca Hirsch worked on a mid-term campaign as a field organizer and then as a sales associate at a specialty sock store. Rebecca is currently a rising 3L at Washington University's Law School in St. Louis. Once she graduates, she wants to clerk before working in administrative law.

Noah Kern is an undergraduate student currently studying political science at the University of Illinois Urbana Champaign. He has had a passion for politics since he joined his high school debate team in freshman year, and he enjoys reading, biking, and tabletop games.

Dhaatri Maviti is a rising senior at the Illinois Mathematics and Science Academy in Aurora, IL. She is very excited to be one of the high school interns at CAC. She resonates with the CAC mission of building a strong democracy for the 21st century, and wants to learn more about how the organization achieves this. Dhaatri is passionate about becoming a future attorney, and is excited about the opportunity to learn more about the legal field through CAC. In her free time, Dhaatri likes to listen to music, work out at the fitness center, and watch true crime shows.

Ovia Sundar is a junior at Barrington High School in Barrington, IL, and she is very excited to be working as a high school intern with the CAC. She feels deeply passionate about the CAC's mission of strengthening democracy and citizen participation. Ovia looks to go to law school someday, and is incredibly excited and grateful for the opportunity to help mobilize her community and explore the legal field. In her free time, you can find her reading contemporary novels, painting, and creating oddly specific Spotify playlist names.
